

ATTENTION ALL SAILORS

LOWER HURON SOLO CHALLENGE SEPT. 11, 2010

Do you ever sail your boat solo, or would like to if you were in the company of other boats? Then why not join us for this “fun race” for solo sailors. It is a great day out doing what we all do when we see another boat near us out there...see if we can keep up or overtake!!

As a bonus, you can do this on the “big water” of Lake Huron.

If you are a neophyte solo sailor, by entering the Jib and Main (JAM) fleet, the “race” is not difficult. Depending upon the wind direction you may only need to tack/jibe a couple of times with plenty of time to think about it and prepare for the manoeuvres. It is NOT the “close encounter” round the buoys kind of racing.

After the challenge there is a party at the Sarnia Yacht Club where you also get to meet some very seasoned single-handed sailors who may repeat their “tales of adventure” over a refreshment or two.

It is a great day out for those who like a little more than an hour pottering about close to shore.

Little “special equipment” is required, only a harness and jack lines. Evidence of liability insurance is also required.

For more information and race documents go to:

Come and join us for some Canadian and Sarnia Yacht Club Hospitality.

Hope you can make it. Any questions, give me a call.
